

SEMESTER PROGRAM IN SEVILLE

COURSES FOR MUNDOLENGUA STUDENTS ONLY (OPTIONAL)

HIPSP 385 The History of Seville "in situ"

This course offers a significant amount of information concerning Spanish history. From the Pre-Roman era until 21st century Seville, the course examines all historical developments of the city, always starting from and ending in the actual location where the most relevant events occurred. The syllabus will revolve around these "in situ" visits, with examples to include: Italica Roman ruins, Morocco (North Africa), Cadiz (oldest city in Western Europe), neighborhoods of Seville such as the Santa Cruz Jewish quarter, Arenal, Macarena, and finally monuments and museums of historic interest, as well as Plaza de Espana and the newly constructed Metropol Parasol.

HIPSP 399 Seville and the community: introduction to the social realities of Seville (with volunteer internships)

The aim of this course is to complement the student volunteer internships so that they become more meaningful. The course will examine the different social realities on both a local and national level, taking into consideration their cultural representation in the press, film, and music. Topics to be covered include; immigration, poverty, sexism, gypsies, etc. Each student will be responsible for developing a research project relating his/her volunteer internship with the theoretical material presented throughout the course.
